Curvature of the Spine.

DR. HAMILTON, No. 47, North Gay street, Baltimore, HAVING turned much of his attention during a long practice to the diseases of the Spine, begs leave to tender his services for the cure or relief of that afflicting malady. The approach of this disease is easily detected by an attentive observer. It makes its appearance generally in children between the second and sixth year; a protuberance of one or more of the small bones composing the spine becomes evident, loss of appetite, irregularity of the bowels, and emaciation soon follow, together with much disinclination to walk—and unless immediate aid is obtained, death or incurable decrepitude through life are the certain consequences. Doctor Hamilton has the satisfaction of knowing that his treatment of this disease, and application of the necessary apparatus, which is simplified at the same time, that it is materially improved, have received the unqualified approbation of many of the most eminent of his medical brethren in Baltimore. Spring corsets, upon a new principle, can be applied for the use of young ladies evincing a tendency to this disease, which, while they afford the most effectual support for either side, may be worn without observation. Satisfactory references might be given to parents whose children have profited by this improved mode of treatment, did not delicacy forbid the publication: they may be easily obtained if desired, by a private interview. To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. GAZETTE
AND Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL STREET.

TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1819.

From the Norfolk Herald, April 28.
INTERESTING.

To our very obliging and attentive Correspondent at Gibraltar, we are indebted for the following interesting summary of intelligence; and for Gibraltar papers to the 27th of February:

"Gibraltar, March 1.

"The grand expedition fitting out at Cadiz under the command of the 'Vice-Roy elect of Buenos Ayres,' is about as forward now as when I first advised you of it, and in all reasonable probability will be as forward (for all the physical and substantial benefits intended by it,) when I next write you, as it is now! Nevertheless considerable expense is incurred and the work of preparing some necessary appendages to the enterprise, is going on; but all this is rather to feather the nests of the officers, merchants and workmen employed about it, than to promote the elevated views of the government—and so it will continue till the day of retribution arrives, which, depend on it, is on the rapid march of awful visitation!

"In one of the papers I now send you is the official account of the execution of no less than thirteen conspirators lately, in the City of Valencia—Since then, we have accounts of the discovery and arrest of twenty three more, amongst whom is the General, second in command: they will probably share the fate of their unfortunate predecessors. . . . A rumbling noise is the pre-cursor of an earthquake.

"The story of the King's deposit in the Bank of England is confirmed beyond a doubt, but it is better known here than to the people of Spain, who of all people perhaps in the Christian world, have least access to information interesting to themselves, tho' affecting their happiness, their liberty, or their lives. Those who know the fact are silent, because they are participants in the perfidy, and have laid a similar anchor to windward for themselves to cling to, when they shall be compelled to fly from the terrible indignation of an abused and injured people.

"A report gains ground that the Marquis de Casa Yrujo has already incurred the royal displeasure, and some go so far as to say, that it is doubtful whether he will ever leave Madrid again—meaning that he will only leave it as many a worthy fellow has done before him, upon a Jack ass, with a suitable escort, by moon-light, to some place of banishment. However credible this rumor may be, there is no certain evidence yet of such a melancholy catastrophe's threatening the 'high destinies' of the noble Marquis, but a remarkable fact of his greediness to provide, like others, for such a fatality, by granting licences to mercantile companies, the gratuity for which $20,000, each, (some say more) is the exclusive prerogative of his office, of his talents and ingenuity, his patriotism and his purse.—More anon.

"Of the interest the Marquis takes in our affairs, nothing particular has reached us; nor do we hear any thing of the conduct of his Government in the matter, on this side the water. We are anxious to know the special business of Don Onis' Secretary who arrived at Cadiz last week, in a vessel from N. York—much importance is attached to it, and the more so as the bearer of despatches was not permitted to land until he had performed his ten days quarantine according to law? He might have landed his despatches through a fumigation of sulphur or vinegar, but he objected to that expedient and urged the necessity of dispensing with the ceremony of quarantine altogether; but they might contain something pestilential, and, perhaps contagious!

"The Governor of Havana has eluded the vigilance of the President, and sent Dr. Robinson a prisoner to Cadiz, where he arrived on Sunday last in the armed brig Lebrero. He is the person whose case has excited more interest than any other captive in the revolutionary service, and whom we understand here, Mr. Cathcart was sent in the Nonsuch to demand. I shall hereafter let you know what fate awaits him.

"A letter from the American Consul at Tangier, dated 22nd Feb. says—'I have fair prospects of recovering three of Capt. Reilly's seamen.'

"Our squadron I believe, is at Messina. The United States frigate is expected here soon on her way home."

"P. S. The British sloop of war Sperry has just arrived here from Mahon, having on board an Algerine Ambassador bound to England; I cannot learn whether his business is of a special nature. The Secretary of the British legation at Algiers, accompanies his Highness in that capacity. The sloop of war has the Algerine flag flying at her main. His Highness has been honored with a salute.—A great matter truly—possibly I may some day hear of the embarkation of Bonaparte, or Knockness, or some other chief of the Seminoles, on a similar destination."

March 3.
"I have just time to add a few more items—No instance has occurred that I know of under the decree of the King of Spain requiring foreigners to take the oath of allegiance to him; the law however remains in the public code.

"The Embargo, if it can be so called, is still in existence, though we have had two instances here of five ships coming from Cadiz under the Spanish flag, which it would be supposed, are exactly such as it was the object of the restriction to detain. On enquiry, however, I find that these vessels escaped H. M.'s vigilance by a species of shining necromancy very well understood in all the ports of Spain, and as many more may break the Embargo in this way as the mysterious magic of the metallic jugglers (dollars) may be applied to.

"I made a memorandum to you the other day, of a new order of the 'royal milliner' (so Ferdinand is sometimes called here) regarding all foreigners found aiding or assisting his enemies in New Spain: herewith I send you a translation of it, which at this moment would be useful to you, and I could wish you had it. What becomes now of the 'profound indignation of H. C. M. at the execution of Arbutnot and Ambrister? Can you find an advocate in sober legislation for such absurd pretensions? I say nothing of England in the matter, for it she approach the subject at all, it will be with the mere shew of diplomatic importance, to quiet the groans of some restless spirits, or to take advantage of any apparent current in her favor. The history of her wars in India will rise in judgment against her, and the public chronicles of the day invite attention to too many melancholy facts, for England to be very ambitious of stirring an enquiry about savage warfare.

"The United States, who have so often declared that it is not 'unworthy' of her to look to Europe (and particularly to England) for precedents of public law and national usage, would now seem to aljure the practice in the very instance which affords them the widest field for imitation and example: I mean the power and authority of a commanding general in the field, and the right he acquires of choosing the manner of punishing his enemy and bringing him to terms: the right of retaliation is as undoubted—But if you will not allow General Jackson to plead the force of example, the right of retaliation nor the law of necessity, in what a dilemma do you place yourselves for the conduct and management of any future wars in which you may be engaged. You will be driven to the necessity of framing a code of 'articles' applicable to every emergency, and of putting into the hands of your officers a charter of special grants, which, like your constitution, compels you to lay your finger upon every clause that warrants any act of your civil conduct. Such an absurdity, growing out of the very nature of things, is too apparent to dwell upon. For the purposes of war as ridiculous as if a painter were to take a view of the firmament to-day for its appearance all the year round.

"What then is the course which justice, gratitude and a generous magnanimity points out for your adoption? If General Jackson has done right, and done no more than it was his duty to do (though without orders) approve him; make the declaration to all the world 'confederate,' nor permit his rich plume of glory to be shorn of a single feather. If he has done wrong—wrong from an over zeal to do right—not from malice, tyranny or an insidious desire to frustrate the liberties of his country at the shrine of a military despotism—renew him! forget the mischief of a single error in the uprightness of his intentions, in his long life of filial devotion to your service. Chide him with the tender solicitude with which a fond parent reproves the fault of a darling child. He is too good a son not to receive your admonition. But tarnish not the precious inheritance of his 'good name.' It is your property, acquired in your service—in the defence of your liberties! and if for errors 'which flesh is heir to'—from which neither his spiritual nor political saviour were supposed, in the eyes of men, to have been exempt, you obscure the lustre of his beams—you pluck from the national diadem one of the richest jewels of your fame.

"What then will you do? Will you receive the war worn veteran to your arms? husband him in your affections? cherish him in your hearts? and permit him in the fleeting evening of his days yet to live, to glide down the gentle stream of life 'in the glorious sunshine of his own inward approbation,' and his country's gratitude? Or will you join in the senseless clamour of an embecille and perfidious foe! and by an act of national turpitude which 'years of repentance will not wash away,' forget his life of ceaseless labor and anxious care—blot out the recollection of his deeds which saved your soil from pollution, your altars from sacrilege, your wives from violence, your children from massacre? Cast him away an exile in his native land, 'unhonored and unsung,' and bring his grey hairs with unmerited odium to the dust!—Forbid it Heaven!—Forbid it my country!

"What is the conduct of Gen. Jackson compared with that of Lord Nelson, when in the plenitude of his power he seized upon the Sicilian nobleman Caraccioli, hung him at the yard arm, in the bay of Naples, and ignominiously cast him into the sea, 'an object of terror and contagion, and abomination,' when he knew that by the terms of the capitulation of the garrison, the safety of Caraccioli's person was guaranteed by Commodore Trowbridge! Did England ever disavow the act? (See Southey's life of Nelson.)

"From my correspondent in Cadiz I have this morning learned, that it is a Mr. D. Robinson, (and not Dr. R.) who has arrived at that port a prisoner from Havana.—He is about 45 years of age, a man of excellent talents, and has been imprisoned in Havana and other places more than three months! My correspondent says he is destined to be sent to Ceuta, but hopes not before Mr. Erving will have time to interfere in his behalf. I believe he is from N. York. Gibraltar, 20th Feb.

A conspiracy having been lately discovered at Valencia, the object of which seems to have been the overthrow of the existing government, several of the individuals concerned in it were put to death in that capital on the 20th January last, as appears by the following proclamation.

Worthy Valencians, loyal Warriors,
My Brethren in Arms!

The spectacle, this day offered to your sight, ceases to be shocking when we think of the crimes which have brought those monsters to an ignominious death. To overthrow the monarchy, to subvert the laws, to indulge in plunder, vengeance and murder, and, lastly, to drench the country in blood: such were the objects which they had in contemplation. They also intended to disgrace you forever among your countrymen, and, for this purpose, tried to make you appear as the promoters and the executors of their designs, although they did not apply to carry them into effect.

They rested satisfied with the idea, that they would thus cruelly wrong the fair name of the inhabitants of Valencia, and of the troops composing the garrison—and, conscious, that they themselves were not sufficiently void of humanity to execute their own projects, they called every murderer to their assistance, and wished to set free the greatest delinquents, as their only partizans, in order to get the atrocious crime perpetrated by them. But Providence, which watches over us has used means which, short-sighted as we are, we look upon as extraordinary ones, to make an end, in my opinion, of the enemies of every throne, of every law, and of our religion—of the disturbers of the peace of Spain—by enabling me to find out, and to convict the thirteen wretches whom you have just seen expire.

Valencians! These were not the only traitors amongst us; they have both satellites and accomplices in this kingdom, and the other parts of the country; and it is for you. Worthy Valencians: for you, Spanish warriors, who were, at all times, patterns of fidelity to your king, and of a proper submission to the laws of your forefathers; for you who, by your grief and the most commendable demonstration, have evinced your abhorrence of those monsters—it is for you to point them out to me, and for me to extirpate them. Your welfare, your happiness is concerned in it.—While there is one alive, do not expect to enjoy domestic tranquility. Until the erroneous maxims of libertinism be rooted out, ye fathers, ye shall not have submissive and affectionate sons—ye wives, ye shall not have loving and faithful companions; there shall be no friendship, no good faith in the social or commercial intercourse; laws shall be at an end; the very remembrance of social virtues shall be blotted out; we should ultimately destroy each other, and sons murder their fathers from whom they received their being, and the mothers who brought them up.

If you think this shocking picture is the mere offspring of imagination, turn your eyes towards France, and you will see it realized in the history of our own times. The same principles which proved the ruin of that monarchy, are those by which our enemies are guided, and by means of which they were to bring destruction on us; but fear not; the Divine Protector of this Catholic nation has endowed the Spaniards with greater virtue; and all attempts to make them swerve from the duty of their king or their God, shall prove fruitless. Leaders, faithful to their Prince, are not wanting in the provinces to defend and preserve the throne and the altar; they are not wanting in Valencia; and at the head of the Loyal united to confound rebellion, you shall find, while he breathes, your General.

Valencia, Jan. 20, 1819.

The quarantine schooner returned from

Tangier Bay on the 25th inst. with the following intelligence as to the state of the public health in Barbary.

At Tangiers, the appearances of the cessation of the Plague, were less promising than at the time of the schooner's last visit, the deaths from the 9th to the 22d instant, amounting to 25, a large proportion of which were Jews, several of whom had recovered from the sickness of last year.

In Tetuan the deaths were stated to continue at from 20 to 25 daily. At Fez, the deaths, to the 7th inst. were at the rate of about 40 per diem. While some reports make them exceed 100.

Letters from Rabit, of the 17th inst. report the plague to be continuing 'its ravages there to a great extent, as well as at Larach and Arzila.

LATEST FROM THE HAVANA.
By the schooner Mary-Ann, Captain Croft, we have received from our attentive correspondent Havana papers to the 14th inst. inclusive, and a letter, from which the following is an extract:

"Nothing has occurred of much moment since my last (per Legal Tender.) For several days past some rumours have been spread that the Island of Cuba was about to be ceded to 'Great Britain,'—that a negotiation was actually pending relative to that purpose.—It has occasioned some stir in the private political circles, but the idea is entirely ridiculed.

"Let us cancel the debt, they exclaim, and if it is rejected, let us claim our independence." We are faithful, we are loyal people, and would shed our last drop of blood to restore our country from the height which she has fallen.—We cannot never submit to foreign yoke—"nunca nunca jamas." The British brig of war Beaver, Capt. King, arrived here from Jamaica on the 14th inst.—sailed in company with H. B. M. ship Ephigania, with the Admiral of that station. Sir H. Popham—this vessel has not yet arrived.

The schooner Walton, Gray, of Baltimore, bound for this port, was lost on the 6th instant, on the Berry Islands—passengers, captain, crew, and most of the cargo saved.

The schooner Margaret, Sustache, for your port, is nearly ready for sea—schr. Joseph, from and for your port, also loading—brig Milan, Bonnell, discharging.

"I called this morning on the Rev. Mr. Frost and his brother, whom I was glad to find considerably better—they will go to Matanzas in a few days in the steam-boat."

The Ceres and Diana, sloops of war, which conveyed the Spanish troops to Pensacola, arrived at Havana on the 9th inst.

LATEST FROM THE SPANISH MAINE.

Capt. Twycross who arrived at this port yesterday 30 days from Santa Martha states that official accounts had been received at that place, that Sir Gregor McGregor with his squadron of six sail from Aux Cayes, with 12 or 1500 troops had landed near Porto Bello—all the inhabitants were under arms, and Indians and troops from the country were ordered to that place to defend it. (Patriot.

ALEXANDRIA:
TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1819.

The President of the United States arrived at Charleston on the 28th ult.—He was received with proper demonstrations of respect for the Chief Magistrate of the Union by the citizens of that place.

Mr. Snowden,

I never witnessed more indifference and apathy in time of fire, than on Saturday evening last. The number of persons on the spot were comparatively very small, by their exertions however, and particularly of some praiseworthy citizens on the roof, the fire, as it happened, was subdued before any great injury was sustained.—But what I would chiefly advert to in this short notice is, the conduct of some gentlemen, inhabitants of the town, whom I saw standing at different corners, some within two squares, some still nearer the scene, with their arms folded, as calmly as if they had been admiring the beauties of a moonlight evening. I will answer for it they have no interest in that neighborhood: but they should recollect that such a calamity may befall them, (if indeed they have any property, which, from their conduct, I very much doubt) and that if they do not assist their fellow citizens they may naturally expect to be treated in the same way when placed in the same situation—to say nothing of the want of every good feeling, which it evinces, to see them look on, and through laziness, pride, or some more unworthy motive, see their neighbor's property destroyed, without an effort on their part to save it.

A STRANGER.

Captain Simmons, of the brig Despatch, who arrived at Boston on Monday, in 41 days from Messina, left at that port the U. States ships Franklin and Guerriere, and brig Spark. The frigate United States sailed thence on the 8th March, bound home, and the Erie sloop of war sailed for Marseilles on the 6th. The sloop Osprey, Gaget, of New-Haven, sailed for New-York on the 8th. The Favorite had been 10 days in port. The brig Olive was discharging at Leghorn. Several slight shocks of an earthquake had recently been felt at Messina.

Violence.

ON Saturday evening last, about 11 o'clock, I was sitting on the quarter-deck of my vessel, when a man on board a craft not far from me began to mock the watchmen; and they came down, and he made his escape. One of them came on board my vessel, and took me by the shoulder, saying to the others, this is the man. I immediately told them they were mistaken—I was not the person, for he was in the other vessel, showing them—but all in vain—you are the man, and I will swear it, said one of them. Now I am determined if money can do me justice, and can relieve men from being dragged from their vessels by violence, to that dirty place called the watch-house, to prosecute for the assault, as I do not know what other redress I can get. If men are to be treated in this way, I am sure no decent person will come to the wharfs of Alexandria. After taking me, my hands being in the cabin, they hauled the slider over, and fastened it—so they had to remain there until they could alarm the neighboring vessels to relieve them from the cabin. I appeal to the public, whether a peaceable man should be hauled through the streets by a parcel of men who do not know their business.

THE subscriber returns his thanks to his friends and the public for their former liberal encouragement, and solicits a continuance of their patronage, and takes this method to inform them that he has lately established his factory on a more extensive scale than heretofore, and flatters himself that he will be enabled to execute any orders that he should be favored with in a style equal to any other hatter in the country. Gentlemen wishing hats made particularly for them, can get them at the shortest notice, and on as good terms as to the north. He continues to keep an assortment of hatters' furs; low price fur hats, cheap; logwood and trimmings, all of which will be sold low. Country merchants that are purchasing by the dozen would do well to call before they purchase elsewhere.

Notice.

ON the 9th DAY of JULY next, at 12 o'clock of that day, by virtue of a deed of trust, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises, that very valuable tract of land in Fairfax county, near Holmes's Run, and about four miles from Alexandria, generally known by the name of containing about 115 acres. This land is about one half in wood—the balance cleared, and in cultivation, with convenient buildings on it, and excellent water near them. A considerable proportion of the open land is fertile, and well calculated for timothy meadows.

The sum of $2,254 77 cts will be required to be paid in cash; for the residue a credit of twelve months will be given from the day of sale, the purchaser paying interest thereon, and giving satisfactory security for the punctual payment thereof. A conveyance will be made when the purchase money and interest is all paid up. If the terms of the sale should not be complied with by the purchaser, the premises will be immediately re-sold to the highest bidder, at the risk of the person to whom it shall have been struck off, and the same course will be repeated until an effectual sale shall have taken place.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creeks, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shade and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be a rain divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain; being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover; 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all night,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abounding with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the River, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.
THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of General Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 30 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable.

The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that, they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq., or Francis Adams, Jr.

Most Valuable Landed Property for Sale. BEING anxious to move to the south-western country, I am disposed to sell that most valuable and well known farm in Charles county, Maryland, called The Meadows, and a part of Westwood Manor.—This tract contains 930 acres, is most eligibly situated, lying in the fork of the two branches of the Wicomico river. As to fertility of soil, and advantages of every description, it is equalled but by few surpassed by none.

Also, the farm on which I reside, called Somerset, in the County of King George, Virginia. This tract contains 676 acres, by late survey, and is also well situated, lying on the Potomac river, (opposite col. John Tayloe's Maryland estate) and bounded by the same upwards of a mile, in a progressive state of improvement under the clover and plaster system, which has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations.

Also, two other small tracts in Westmoreland county, Va. containing 325 acres. Also, 1140 acres of military land, in the state of Ohio.

As it is presumed that no person will (and as it is my desire that no one should) purchase without viewing the premises, I will not give a minute description of these tracts. Indisputable title will be made in every instance. Persons wishing to purchase, will please make application personally, or by letter addressed to the subscriber, near Hanstead post office, Va.
